

The UCD James Joyce Research Centre, School of English, Drama and Film, in collaboration with the James Joyce Centre present

Another Irregular Finnegans Wake-End

Lecture:

‘From Tristan to Finnegan’

Prof. Daniel Ferrer

(Institut des Textes et Manuscrits Modernes, Ecole Normale Supérieure/CNRS)

Friday 7 November, 18.30

James Joyce Centre, 35 North Great George’s Street

DAY-LONG READING GROUP

Saturday 8 November 2014

11.00-17.00

James Joyce Centre, 35 North Great George’s Street

The latest instalment of the UCD Finnegans Wake Workshop will take place on Saturday, 8 November 2014, 11.00–17.00, in the James Joyce Centre. We will be reading the close of the ‘Anna Livia Plurabelle’ chapter, Book I, chapter 8 (FW 209.10–216.05). Together with Dr Luca Crispi (UCD) and Professor Anne Fogarty (UCD), as well as other Dublin Joyce readers, the guest moderators for this session will be Dr Finn Fordham (Royal Holloway University, University of London) and Professor Daniel Ferrer.

Paul O’Hanrahan (Balloonatics Theatre Company) will be the guest reader. Please bring a copy of Finnegans Wake with you and read the section in advance.

Places are limited for the Reading Group session, so pre-booking is advisable. The Friday lecture will have no charge but there is a €10 (€10 students) registration fee for the Saturday session. This will include lunch and tea/coffee.

For further information and to register contact: luca.crispi@ucd.ie