Welcome to our new Part-Time Programme 2018-19

UCD proudly supports Open Learning the first programme of its kind in Ireland.

Access and Lifelong Learning will be your bridge to the university. We're here to answer all your queries, offer support and guidance through our dedicated orientation sessions, digital ambassadors, chat cafes and academic workshops.

Students can choose to immerse themselves as much or as little as they like. You can complete a certificate, diploma or degree in Open Learning or just choose to learn for fun.

This brochure includes all our Open Learning modules for 2018-19, with students having the option of starting in either September or January. It showcases the best teaching that UCD has to offer in a variety of disciplines.

There are many options available to Open Learners and you can register online, over the phone or in person.

We hope to see you at our Part-time Open Day on Friday 24th August from 10.00am-1.00pm or at the many events available in our new Access and Lifelong Learning Centre. Some of which are listed in our Save the Date in this programme. You can also contact us at:

Open Learning is open to everyone, especially if you...

- Have free time
- Want an intergenerational university experience.....
- Want to study at your own pace - due to life commitments.....
- Want to explore what higher education is like before pursuing a full degree
- Want to experience university learning and life.....
- Want to taste various subjects before committing to full-time study
- Have previously withdrawn / deferred, but want to stay in a learning environment.....
- Are looking for CPD opportunities.....
- Want to develop existing knowledge.....
- Want to be part of the UCD student community
- Want to complete a Certificate or Diploma in Open Learning.....
- Want to progress to the UCD Arts and Humanities or Social Sciences degree programmes.....
- Want an alternative to the MSAP

OPEN LEARNING
INTRODUCTION

UCD Open Learning is an innovative and unique approach to part-time study in UCD.

You can choose from a wide range of undergraduate modules for either audit or credit. There are no entry requirements to the programme - you just need to find a module or modules that interest you and simply register!

DIFFERENT OPEN LEARNING STUDY OPTIONS

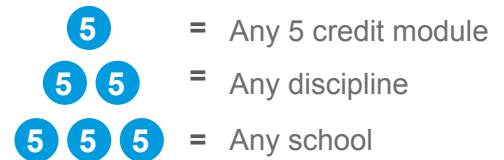

AUDIT IN OPEN LEARNING

If you take a module for audit, you can fully participate in the modules without taking any assessment. You won't be eligible for an award if you only take modules for audit.

CREDIT IN OPEN LEARNING

If you take the credit option, you are committing to participate in the module and take all the assessments. Every module you successfully complete is worth 5 credits towards an award.

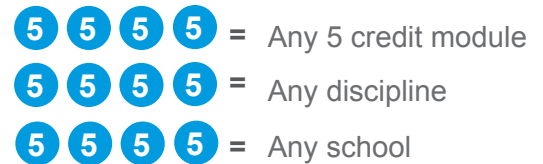

If you gather 30 credits you can choose to exit the Open Learning programme with a Certificate in Open Learning (Level 7).

DIPLOMA IN OPEN LEARNING

If you collect 60 credits you can choose to exit the Open Learning programme with a Diploma in Open Learning.

For both the Certificate and Diploma you can take credit modules from any School included in the Open Learning programme.

PATHWAY TO DEGREE PROGRAMMES

If you have a Certificate in Open Learning or complete one during the course of the academic year, you can apply through the CAO for a degree in Arts & Humanities or Social Sciences. You will need to have received a GPA (Grade Point Average) of 2.6 or higher to apply.

If a student is applying for a degree on the grounds of mature years and has successfully completed one or more Open Learning Module (minimum GPA 2.0), this may be considered as proof of academic ability instead of an MSAP score. Please see www.ucd.ie/maturestudents for further information.

Before you apply...

GUIDANCE

Before registering for a module, please take the time to read the module descriptor and if you have any further questions, please get in touch with us.

WHAT LEVEL IS MY MODULE? WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

Each module is assigned a level. We recommend that you begin Open Learning with level 1 modules. The levels represent academic progression, with the higher levels assuming that you have already mastered the key concepts and skills required for academic writing and critical reflection.

UPGRADING TO CREDIT

If you are unsure about whether you want to take a module for credit, we encourage you to first register for audit. You have three weeks from the start of the semester to upgrade to credit. Please note it will not be possible to apply for a partial refund of fees if you change your mind.

Students who have taken modules for credit cite a number of reasons for doing this:

- Motivated to earn credits for their learning
- Have a preference for the structures and deadlines imposed when taking a course for credit
- Consider that they learn more when they are required to complete assignments and study
- Like the idea that they have the potential to add to their accredited modules in the future

UCD LIBRARY

A huge benefit of Open Learning is the access it gives to you UCD's libraries and catalogues including the library's online resources. As an Open Learner you'll have access to all of UCD's libraries.

UCD CONNECT / UCD EMAIL ADDRESS

UCD Connect provides access to a wide range of University services and information. Accessed via the Internet, UCD Connect is always available whether you're on or off campus. To access UCD Connect, launch a web browser, go to www.ucd.ie and select UCD Connect (top right corner).

As a UCD student, you will also have access to your own UCD Connect email address.

COMMUTING TO UCD

As an Open Learner, you can apply for a UCD parking permit. Although this does not guarantee you a parking space, you will be able to park in the designated staff and student parking areas. For a nominal fee, students can apply for a permit on a semester by semester basis. Alternatively there are also pay per hour parking spaces and premium parking spaces available on campus.

For more information <http://www.ucd.ie/students/parking.html>

UCD is serviced by many bus routes and a shuttle bus service from the Dart.

For more visit www.ucdestates.ie/commuting

REFUNDS POLICY

UCD Access and Lifelong Learning operates a strict no refund policy. However, if you experience illness or other extenuating circumstances, you can make an application for extenuating circumstances.

If you've registered for credit and wish to revert to audit, you can request a change in your registration status. The deadline for this is the Friday of Week 6 in each semester, however a partial refund of fees will not be possible.

ENROL FROM:

Registration opens for both Semesters on TUESDAY 7TH AUGUST 2018

Students can provisionally register and book their Open Learning module(s) by

➔ www.ucd.ie/all/study/open-learning

☎ 01 716 7123

👤 at the UCD Access and Lifelong Learning Centre

CONFIRMING YOUR REGISTRATION

Your registration will be provisional until you confirm it online. After you've booked and paid for your module you will receive an email. Please read this email carefully as it will:

- ✓ Confirm your student number
- ✓ Tell you how to complete your registration by logging into the UCD system (UCD Connect)
- ✓ Give you information on how to upload your photo and get your student UCARD
- ✓ It's important to confirm your registration, otherwise you can't get your student UCARD, see your timetable, access your exam results or gain library access.

TUTORIALS / PRACTICALS

Some modules will have additional tutorials, labs or practicals, which students should attend. If your chosen module offers one of these options we'll contact you and help you select the most appropriate option for you. They usually commence in Week 2 or 3.

TIMETABLE AND LOCATION

Your online timetable is available through SISWeb (your online Student Information Portal). It gives information on the day/time/room and building your class is in.

Please note that your timetable can change until the start of the semester and your room location may change from week to week. It's important that you check your schedule regularly for updates and changes.

If you can't find your classroom or lecture theatre, please just ask us. We will be happy to help.

ORIENTATION:

We offer students the opportunity to attend a dedicated orientation session. If you are a first time student, we strongly encourage you to attend, so that you can familiarise yourself with the campus and make the most of your UCD experience.

Students will also get a chance to meet the Access and Lifelong Learning staff and enjoy refreshments with peers. A tour of the campus, the James Joyce Library, and an IT Services induction are included in the orientation.

COLLECTING YOUR UCARD

As an Open Learning student you will receive a UCARD (student card) and access to UCD's library facilities, sports facilities and all other student services. Returning students do not need to change their student UCARD, these cards will be activated within 24 hours once registration is confirmed.

MODULE DURATION

UCD modules are typically between 10-12 weeks, however, there can be some exceptions to this. Please ensure you've checked the module descriptor for your chosen module.

Many modules will have a 'reading week' in Week 7 or 8 classes do not take place during that week. If you are unsure about whether your module has a reading week, you can confirm this with your lecturer or tutor.

While you are a student...

CLASS CANCELLATIONS

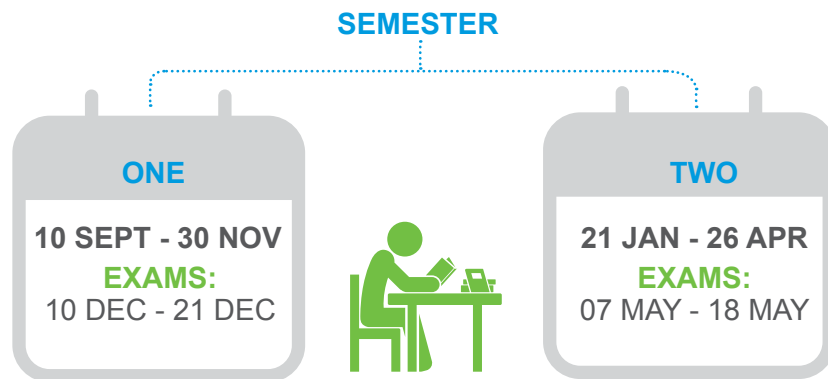

Classes may be cancelled due to unforeseen circumstances, it is at the discretion of the lecturer as to whether they offer a replacement class. Class cancellations are often announced on your VLE (virtual learning environment), so it's important to check this on a regular basis.

AWARDS STRUCTURE

You can decide to take any combination of modules towards an award. There is no time limit on collecting your credits, so this can be achieved over successive semesters or over a longer period of time. See My Open Learning Pathway, page 13.

ASSESSMENT / RESULTS

Students who choose to take modules for credit, should ensure that they have familiarised themselves with the assessment for the module. The exam schedule will not be published until at least Week 7 of each semester. More information is available from the UCD Assessment webpage: www.ucd.ie/students/assessment

APPEALS AND RESITS

Open Learning students taking modules for credit can avail of the UCD's appeals process www.ucd.ie/appeals if required.

Students who fail their modules, can avail of resit opportunities. For more information contact Access and Lifelong Learning.

EXTENUATING CIRCUMSTANCES / REFUNDS POLICY

If you cannot complete your assessment due to extenuating circumstances (such as illness or bereavement), please contact Access and Lifelong Learning for details on how to apply for extenuating circumstances.

DIGITAL AMBASSADORS

UCD's Student Digital Ambassadors provide drop-in sessions to help students develop the necessary digital skills to succeed in UCD. These Ambassadors will help you with a range of skills including navigating your UCD Connect account, digital security and VLE platforms.

ACADEMIC WORKSHOPS

Throughout the academic year students can avail of a variety of academic skills training workshops, held in the Access and Lifelong Learning Centre. These workshops provide skills training which will complement the academic term.

These workshops are free and require no prior registration. They take place on Wednesday from 13.00-14.00 in the ALL Learning Space.

APPLIED LANGUAGE CENTRE

Established in 1989, the UCD Applied Language Centre is a teaching, research and resource Centre at University College Dublin. The Centre provides language modules and programmes to students across the university and externally.

It emphasizes small-group language teaching and has a strong record as a Centre for both IELTS examinations and Cambridge English Language Assessment. The Centre's focus is on extending UCD's global culture and cultivating the language abilities of UCD students in a learning environment that promotes communication, autonomy and a learner-centred approach. The Centre offers a wide range of Global Language Electives to students across the University. Languages available include: Arabic, Chinese, English (for general and academic purposes), French, German, Italian, Japanese, Russian, Spanish and Swahili. These language modules are offered at different levels from beginners to advanced. All students interested in taking a language module must attend the ALC for a language consultation. This is to ensure that you are registered to the correct module for your language level. Registration for your chosen language module will be provisional until your consultation has taken place.

In 2018-19, the Applied Language Centre will be offering 12 Open Learning modules.

SCHOOL OF ART HISTORY AND CULTURAL POLICY

UCD was the first Irish university to offer instruction in Art History and the School of Art History and Cultural Policy is Ireland's largest academic department for the study of the discipline at undergraduate and postgraduate level.

Art History is intrinsically inter-disciplinary and we promote a stimulating environment that fosters critical enquiry, interpretative and analytical skills, and visual acuity in the examination of mankind's diverse visual and artistic heritage. The School's academics are renowned for their expertise in European and American art and architecture, spanning from antiquity to the contemporary period and for specialisms in the field of Irish art.

In 2018-19, the School of Art History and Cultural Policy will be offering 12 Open Learning modules.

SCHOOL OF CLASSICS

The UCD School of Classics is the largest centre of Classical studies in Ireland. The School is also home to a Classical Museum which was established by Henry Browne, Professor of Greek from 1909 to 1922.

Classics is the study of the history, literature, and material culture of the Greek and Roman Mediterranean from the Bronze Age to Late Antiquity. It is an exciting, interdisciplinary subject which inspired the Renaissance and remains central to the understanding of modern European culture and society. Open Learning students can study the history, literature, art and archaeology of the ancient world by taking modules in the Greek and Roman Civilization programme. No Greek or Latin is required as texts are studied in translation.

In 2018-19, the School of Classics will be offering 15 Open Learning modules.

SCHOOL OF ENGLISH, DRAMA AND FILM

English, Drama and Film are disciplines that engage critically with written, spoken and performed media from early manuscripts to contemporary blogs.

The focus of the School's activities is on high quality pedagogy informed by cutting edge research, and on teaching core skills for work and life: critical thinking, excellent written communication, the ability to synthesize, organize and present complex ideas. Our disciplines educate students in the history and practices of theatre and performance, of media and cultural production, of literary and cultural production, and of creative writing. The School's origins go back to the foundation of UCD, and we have had a distinguished tradition of research, but also in the cultural life and practice of the state. Our current Head of School is Professor Danielle Clarke.

In 2018-19 the School of English, Drama and Film will be offering 27 Open Learning Modules.

SCHOOL OF HISTORY

The School of History at UCD is the perfect environment for anyone who has a love of history.

Its modules – all taught by experts in their field who bring their new research to the classroom – create for everyone the opportunity to explore the past. Sometimes this can mean looking afresh at what might appear to be familiar subjects and on other occasions it means investigating entirely new areas of study. It is this willingness to embrace new ideas and new approaches that defines the School of History.

In 2018-19, the School of History will be offering 21 Open Learning modules.

SCHOOL OF BIOLOGY AND ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE

The UCD School of Biology and Environmental Science is the largest teaching and research centre for biology in Ireland.

A unique feature of the School is the inter-disciplinary nature of its activities, providing students and scientists alike with critical knowledge and perspective about modern biology, encompassing molecules through to ecosystems. At national level the School provides expertise that informs environmental and sustainable management policies, supporting the agricultural, food and biomedical industries. Our portfolio of teaching at undergraduate and graduate level is strongly informed by our research which is inter-disciplinary in nature and covers ecosystems, global change and sustainability; evolution and population biology; plant sciences; and cellular systems.

In 2018-19 the School of Biology and Environmental Science will be offering 4 Open Learning modules:

As an alumni, I enjoyed being part of the UCD community again. I had taken Physics as the minor subject for my degree, but they didn't teach Astronomy back then & I found the content fascinating

Attending the lecture was a wonderful experience

I wish to continue to the next level and eventually become fluent in French

Excellent opportunity to broaden horizons and sample university education

Because for me it is life changing and broadening my horizons and giving me confidence in myself and hopefully a more interesting person

Very enjoyable, informative, stimulating and challenging

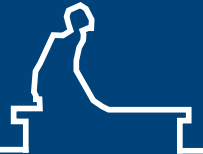

Excellent academic experience. Very enjoyable relaxed way to learn

I enjoyed being included in college life being treated equally to other students

Superb choice of courses and so good to broaden your knowledge and interests
