Study Abroad: Open Up Your World

UCD Arts and Humanities is your passport to studying abroad with one of the 400 exchange partners across our global university network.

Studying abroad presents a unique opportunity for interested UCD Arts and Humanities students. You can continue to study your chosen subjects, while at the same time enjoy the benefits of immersion in the language, literature and culture of your host country.

The experience has transformed the lives of generations of UCD students. Each of our degrees allows students the chance to study abroad for a semester or a year.

College of Arts and Humanities students can live and study in universities in more than 25 countries, including:

Australia	Iceland
Austria	Italy
Belgium	Japan
Brazil	Korea
Canada	Malta
Chile	Netherlands
China	New Zealand
Cyprus	Norway
Denmark	Singapore
Finland	Spain
France	Sweden
Germany	Switzerland
Hungary	United Kingdom
United States

DN520 BA Arts [Two Subject]:

Year-abroad study is optional. Students can apply for a year abroad in a partner university. They extend their degree from three to four years and are awarded a BA [International] degree.

DN530 BA Humanities:

Students may apply for a semester abroad in one of our partner universities during the third year of their degree programme. Students taking English, European and World Literature have a built-in year-long programme abroad

DN541 BA Modern Languages:

All students take year 3 abroad.

Arts and Humanities Internships

Students enrolled on the BA Humanities four-year degree may apply for a one-semester internship in the third year of their programme. UCD College of Arts and Humanities will offer internships across a wide spectrum of industries, including government, NGOs; media, creative industry and cultural institutions.

These internships will be supported by a pre-placement work-preparation module and will allow students to gain invaluable work experience in an environment relevant to their degree subjects.

As well as giving students workplace experience, the internships will help students establish a network of relationships, enhance their core skills, deepen their understanding of the wider world and inform future career choices.

Benefits of Internships to Arts and Humanities students

Students on the four-year BA Humanities programme who apply to do an internship in the second semester of their third year will benefit in many ways.

A structured way to acquire practical knowledge and insight into area of study

Acquisition of key communication, cognitive and professional skills

Opportunity to apply research-based problem solving in the practical context of the work place.

Enhanced understanding of potential future career options

Enhanced organisational skills

Ability to apply skills and learning in a practical environment

Relationship with potential future employers

A broader understanding of the social, cultural and economic demands of the workplace

Personal development and enhanced self-confidence in the workplace

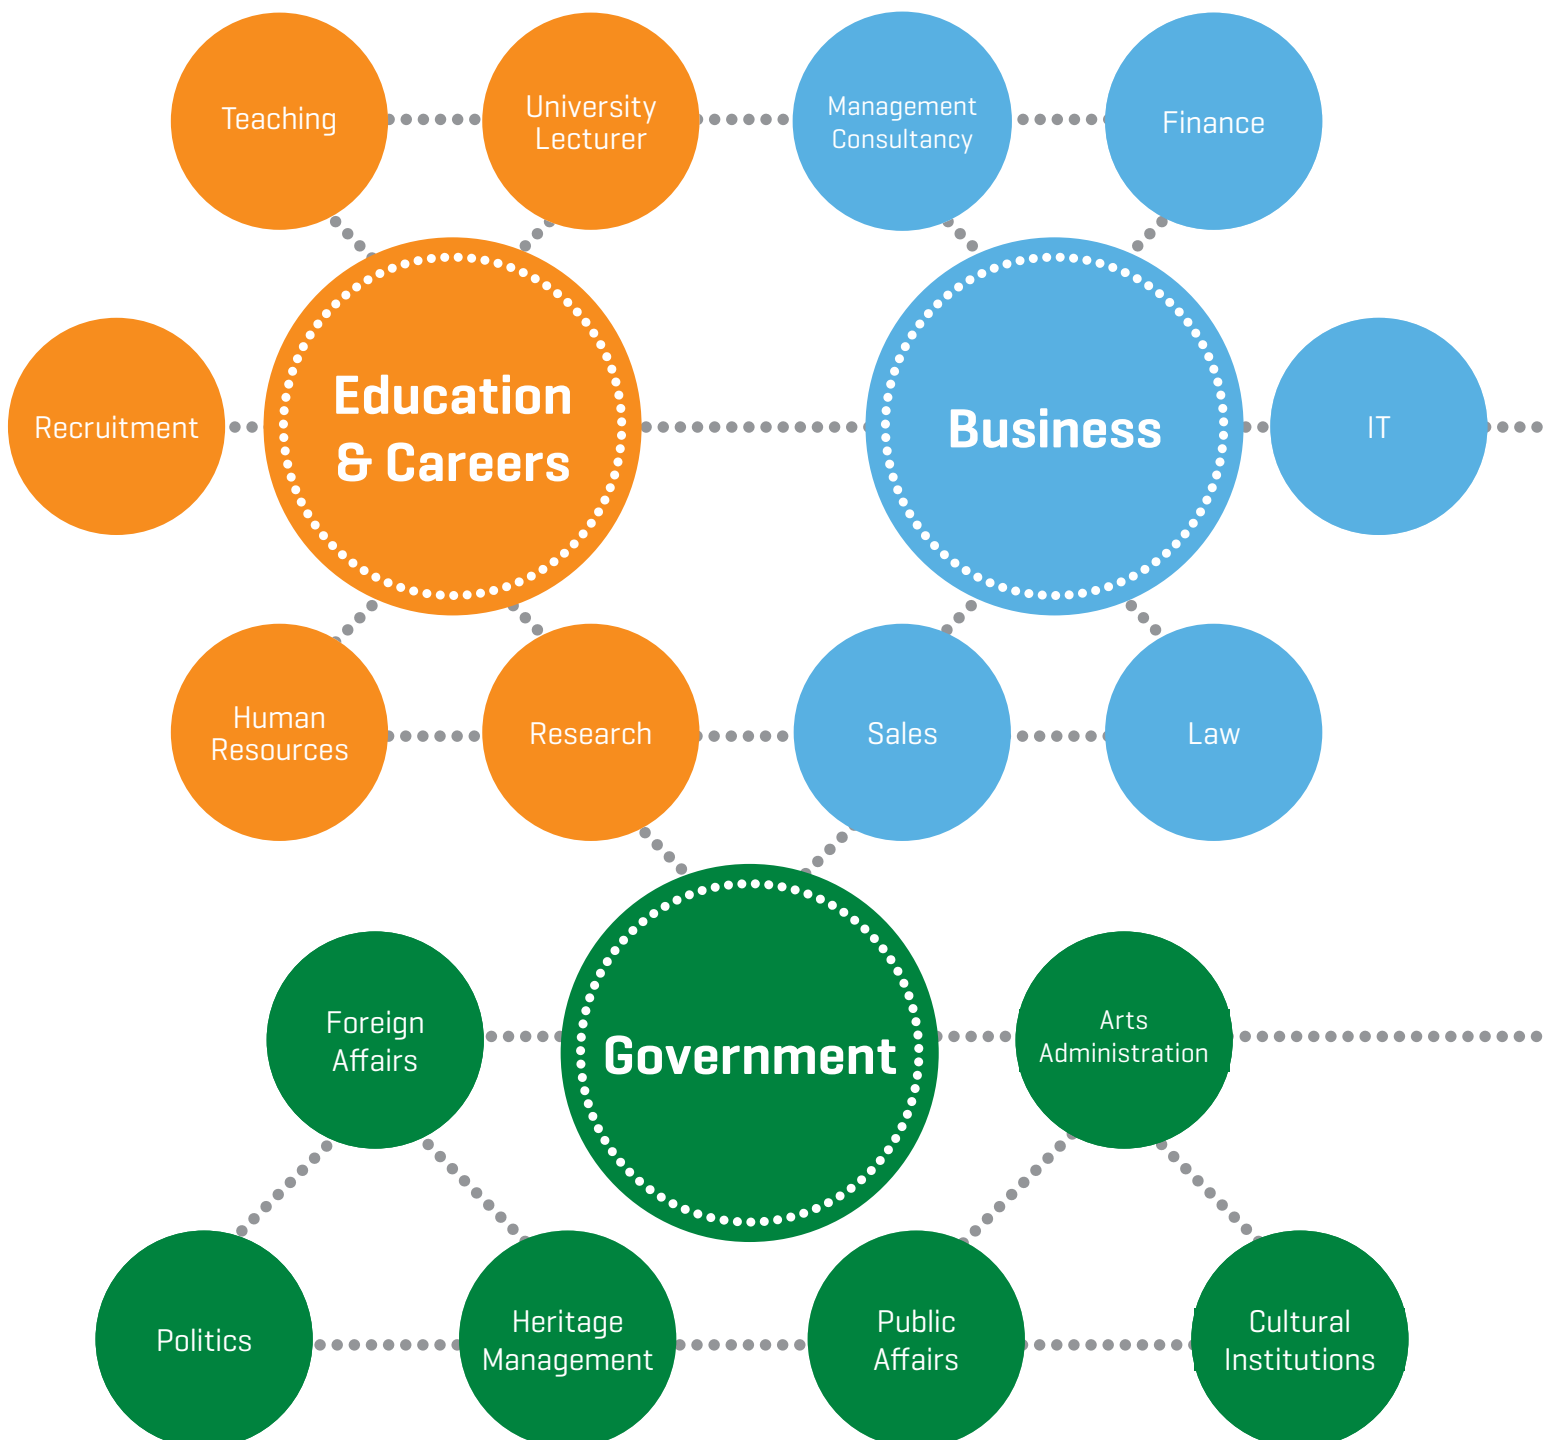

Adaptability and flexibility in relation to the demands and expectations of different working environments

Arts and Humanities Career Opportunities

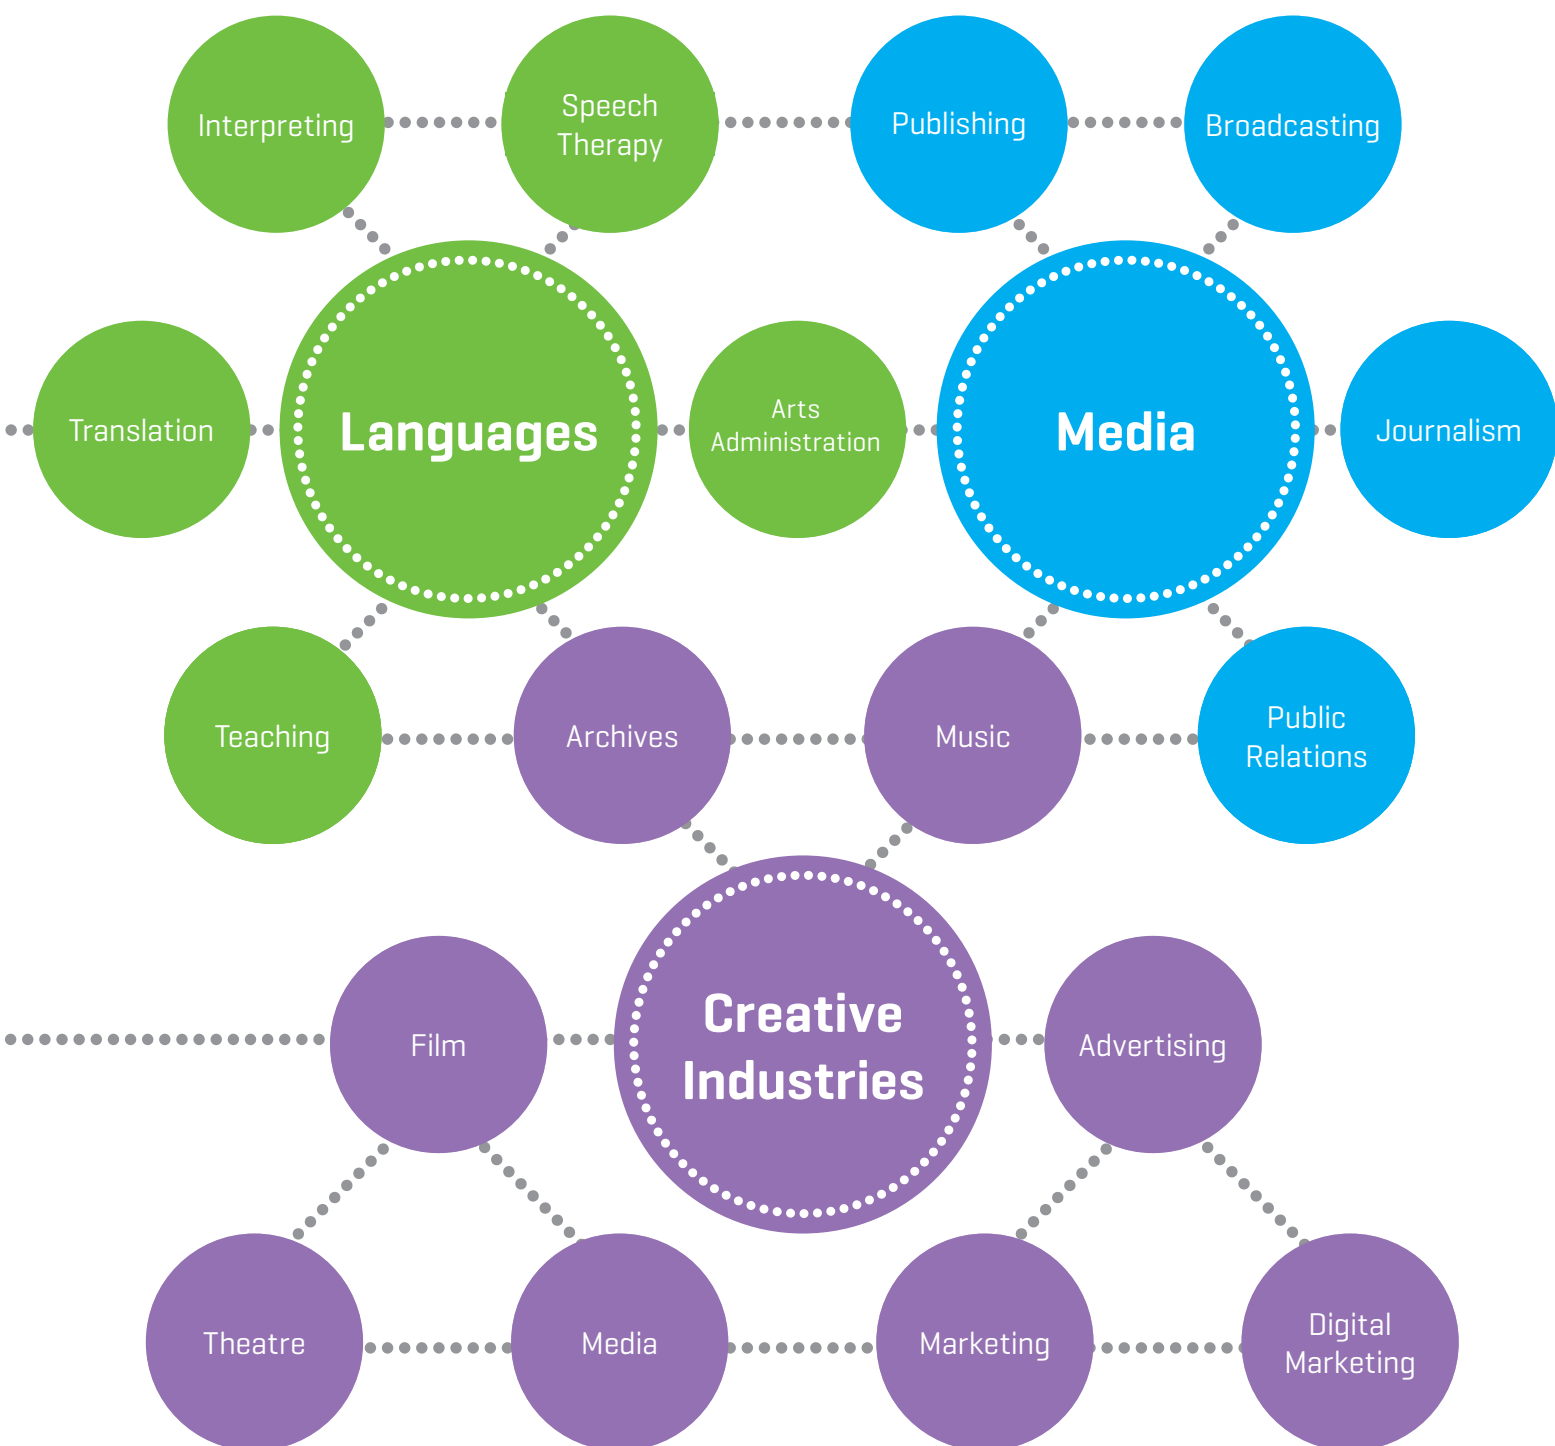

UCD Arts and Humanities graduates have core skills that employers need in the rapidly changing jobs' market. Our graduates are flexible and creative with strong linguistic and communication skills as well as a research-based approach to problem solving.

Our Alumni are recognized for their achievements in business, the media, education and the arts around the world

UCD College of Arts and Humanities works with the University's Career Development Centre to enhance the professional development of our students. The Career Development Centre continues to support UCD Arts and Humanities graduates through their early career

For more information, see www.ucd.ie/careers.

Arts and Humanities Graduate Study

The creative and critical thinking acquired by UCD Arts and Humanities graduates enables access to a broad range of postgraduate degrees and conversion courses. Some graduates will specialise in the subjects they pursued for their undergraduate degrees, while others convert to a new discipline.

For those who wish to continue their postgraduate study in UCD, the breadth of courses offered coupled with our excellence in research make it the preferred destination.

Entry Routes to UCD Arts and Humanities

The UCD College of Arts and Humanities offers the widest range of Arts and Humanities courses available in Ireland.

You will study in a vibrant dynamic environment where creative thinking and analytical thinking are promoted and developed. In addition to the in-depth knowledge you will gain across subject area[s], our broad humanistic ethos will enable you to develop a diverse range of critical skills. These include:

- A creative mindset
- Excellent written and verbal communication
- Collaboration and innovation
- Cross-cultural & multi-linguistic understanding
- Effective research techniques
- Content analysis
- Depth and breadth of historical knowledge
- Flexibility and empathy

DN520 BA Arts (Two Subjects)

- Three-year course
- Freedom to study unrivalled range of subjects
- Excellent foundation for further studies and career options

DN530 BA Humanities

- Four-year course
- Nine options available
- Innovative, interdisciplinary, multi-subject programmes
- Study abroad, internship and research in years three and four

DN541 BA Modern Languages

- Four-year multilingual course
- Study a minimum of two languages within a multicultural environment
- Study abroad in year three

DN520 BA Arts (Two Subjects)

This three-year programme gives you the opportunity and freedom to study an unrivalled range of arts, humanities and social sciences subjects. You can choose from many popular subject combinations in this long-established and internationally recognised degree, which provides an excellent foundation for a range of career options. You will build a unique skill set in research, digital expertise, scholarship, and critical inquiry, coupled with the ability to use these skills to pursue and evaluate knowledge and to communicate effectively.

BA Arts [Two Subjects]

This programme is taught by our world-class academics and allows you to specialise in your chosen subjects so that you can embark on a wide range of future careers, postgraduate opportunities and professional work.

Select your subjects

Indicate on your CAO form the two subjects you wish to study. Find out which you can combine in the grid below. Choose one subject from the first column and a second subject from the top row, from either the 'JOINT MAJOR' or 'MINOR' tables. Please note that in a Joint Major degree (for example, History and English), students take an equal number of modules in both subjects. In a Major/Minor degree (for example, French with Film Studies), students take more modules in their Major subject (e.g. French).

Year 1

Study your two chosen subjects and develop your range of options by choosing a third subject from the extensive range available.

At the end of First Year, you will receive advice and support in finalising your two subject choices before you move into Second Year.

If you are studying History or Music, you may transfer from a Joint Major degree to a Single Subject degree after Year 1.

Years 2 & 3

Study your two chosen subjects to degree level.

Optional International Study Abroad

UCD offers many opportunities for you to study abroad in one of our prestigious partner universities across the world. You can choose to spend an additional year abroad and then graduate with a four-year BA International Degree.

OR

Convert your BA into an MA by taking a one-year course at one of our top ranking schools. See relevant subject pages to view the MA course options.

Choose a Subject from the column below and a second subject from the row across (in either the 'JOINT MAJOR' or 'MINOR' table)

• Indicates combinations in which both subjects are studied.

How to Apply to UCD Arts and Humanities

Application to UCD is via the CAO and there are a number of routes into Arts and Humanities.

Irish Leaving Certificate Applicant

Admission to UCD Arts and Humanities programmes is based on the points system for students who take the Leaving Certificate examinations. In order to be eligible to compete for any course, you must obtain a minimum of Grade H5 in two subjects and a minimum of Grade O6/H7 in the remaining four subjects. Irish, English and a third language are required subjects. Application is through the CAO process.

Go to www.ucd.ie/registry/admissions for more information

Mature Applicants

A mature applicant is anyone who is at least 23 years of age on 1 January of the proposed year of entry. For admission in September 2018, your date of birth must be on or before 1 January 1995. Application is through the CAO and all students must sit an MSAP test.

Go to www.ucd.ie/maturestudents for more information

University Access Courses

Access courses designed to help adult learners prepare for university are available in Arts and Humanities, Social Sciences, Law, Science, Engineering and Agricultural Sciences. The UCD access courses guarantee entry to the BA degree programme, once course assessment criteria are met.

Go to www.ucd.ie/all/study for details.

HEAR

School leavers from socio-economically disadvantaged backgrounds who are under the age of 23 as of 1 January 2018 and resident in the Republic of Ireland, may apply to Higher Education Access Route (HEAR) scheme.

Go to www.ucd.ie/registry/admissions for more information

DARE

DARE is for school leavers (under 23 years old as at 1 January 2018) who have the ability to benefit from and succeed in higher education, but who may not meet the points for their preferred course due to the impact of a disability.

Go to www.ucd.ie/registry/admissions for more information

ENTRY With QQI-FET Qualification

All Arts and Humanities programmes have reserved places for applicants with appropriate QQI-FET (Level 5 or 6) qualifications and modules. Applicants must have a minimum of distinction in five modules and are admitted on a competitive basis.

Go to ucd.ie/registry/admissions for more information

A-Level Applicant

Applicants must have six recognised subjects, according to course requirements. They must obtain Grade C, or better, in two subjects at A-level (A2) and Grade C, or better, in the remaining four subjects at GCSE. Applicants from Britain and Northern Ireland are generally exempt from the requirement of presenting Irish.

Go to www.ucd.ie/myucd/alevel for details.

EU Applicant

EU applicants must meet the same minimum entry requirements as Irish CAO school leavers.

Go to www.ucd.ie/ registry/admissions for details.

Non-EU Applicant

Non-EU students are eligible to apply for admission to a limited number of places on BA programmes. Application is made via www.ucd.ie/ international/ apply except where an agent is used.

Further information on application and entry requirements is available at www.ucd.ie/international or via international.admissions@ucd.ie

Scholarships and Grants

Ad Astra Scholarship Programmes

Excellence underpins everything we do at UCD, and the University recognises exceptional students when they join, as well as those who develop their talents while studying at UCD. The Ad Astra Academic Scholarship Programme fosters academic potential in high-achieving students. Ad Astra scholars benefit from a scholarship, mentoring and a range of tailored supports. The Academic Programme, the Performing Arts Programme and the Sports Scholars Programme are all designed to promote the development of our students.
