

University College Dublin
An Coláiste Ollscoile, Baile Átha Cliath

UCD School of English, Drama and Film

MA in Film Studies (One Year)
Ph.D in Film Studies (Three Years)

At UCD students analyse media from within and beyond the canon in a variety of genres, periods and forms. We focus on media history and critical studies with an emphasis on issues of gender, class, race/ethnicity, consumerism and citizenship and set the analysis of media within national, international and transnational contexts. Although teaching ranges widely across American, Irish, and European media, faculty research is particularly concentrated in the areas of contemporary Hollywood, representations of gender, and urban and documentary films.

Teaching Staff

Professor Diane Negra, Head of Subject
(Media Studies, Gender Studies, American Studies)

Dr. Harvey O'Brien

(Early & Silent Cinema, Documentary, Animation)

Dr. Julie Elman

(Television Studies, Cultural Studies, Disability Studies)

Mr. Tony Fitzmaurice

(European Cinema, Hollywood)

Dr. Emma Radley

(Irish Cinema, Horror)

Application Deadline 29 June, 2012.

Apply online:

<http://www.ucd.ie/apply/>

For academic queries please contact
Professor Diane Negra
diane.negra@ucd.ie

For application information please contact Film Studies Administrator

Ms. Karen Jackman,
karen.jackman@ucd.ie

Tel: (353) 1 716 8604.

Fax: (353) 1 716 8605.

Hanna Sheehy-Skeffington Building,
University College Dublin, Belfield,
Dublin 4, Ireland.