

UCD School of Archaeology

Research Seminar Series 2011/12

(Every Thursday at 5 pm, Room A109, Newman Building, UCD)

All welcome

For further information contact:
archaeology.soc@gmail.com
stephen.davis@ucd.ie

Week 2: Thursday 26th January 2012

Prof. Poul Holm, Trinity College Dublin

"Fishing Matters – historical perspectives on the impacts of fisheries on ecosystems and human societies"

Week 3: Thursday 2nd February 2012

Prof. Charlotte Damm, NUI Galway

"Mesolithic and Neolithic religious perceptions - examples from Scandinavia."

Week 4: Thursday 9th February 2012

Dr Gill Juleff, University of Exeter

"Technology and evolution: Asian metallurgy from protohistoric Sri Lanka to Japanese steel."

Week 5: Thursday 16th February 2012

Prof. Philip de Souza, School of Classics, UCD

"Ancient Naval Warfare: new evidence and new approaches."

Week 6: Thursday 23rd February, 2012

Dr Anthony Beck, University of Leeds

"The DART project: Detection of Archaeological Residues using remote sensing Techniques "

Week 7: Thursday 1st March 2012

Dr Gill Plunkett, Queen's University Belfast

"Shouldn't talk about the weather but...: a critique of climate-cultural relationships in Later Prehistoric and Early Medieval Ireland."

Week 8: Thursday 29th March, 2012

Fiona Beglane, Sligo IT

"Finding medieval deerparks in the Irish countryside."

ARCHAEOLOGICAL SOCIETY INAUGURAL LECTURE

Monday 2nd April 2012, Venue TBC

Professor Dominic Powlesland,

University of Leeds/Landscape Research Centre

"From Landscape to Lostscape: Three decades of research into the Landscape Archaeology of the Vale of Pickering"

Week 9: Thursday 5th April 2012

Prof. John Moreland, University of Sheffield

"The Barrow and the Cross: Landscapes of Belief in Anglo-Saxon England."

Week 10: Thursday 12th April 2012

Dr John Sheehan, University College Cork

"Viking Silver Hoards in Ireland: some issues."

Week 11: Thursday 19th April 2012

Dr Chris Dalgleish, University of Glasgow

"Archaeology and the creation of the future landscape"

UCD Archaeological Society Seminars are sponsored by the Office of Public Works

