

Procedure for Establishing Split Site Arrangements for Research Degree Students

1. Introduction

This procedure document should be read in conjunction with the 'UCD Policy Split-Site Research Degree Student Arrangements'.

UCD research degree students, as part of their approved study plan, can undertake to conduct significant elements of their research programme away from the University. The organisations that host research students include but are not limited to research institutes, industry laboratory or studio, government agency or non-government organisation.

Where a research student spends more than one continuous trimester carrying out their research at an organisation other than UCD, this is considered a split-site arrangement.

All institutional split-site partnerships require a written agreement to be drawn up between UCD and the hosting organisation. and formal approval given by the relevant Governing Board which in this case is the Graduate Research Board (GRB). Furthermore, an individual detailed agreement for each research student with the specifics of the arrangements must be agreed by all parties including the student.

Please note that the following students are not considered to be in a split-site arrangement:

- Students undertaking short-term (i.e. less than one trimester) fieldwork or visits outside of the University as part of their research programme.
- Students registered for research degrees at other institutions who spend a substantial period of time at UCD.
- Students on Inter-Institutional Co-supervisory arrangements where the student spends time in two Higher Education Institutions leading to a joint degree award.

2. Procedure

Step 1:

If not already in place, the research student's Principal Supervisor, the proposed External Supervisor in the hosting organisation and the management of the organisation discuss the proposed arrangement and develop an overarching UCD Research Student Supervision Statement to be submitted to the Graduate Research Board for approval. Multiple student arrangements can be accommodated under this agreement. (See Appendix 1 for a template UCD Research Student Hosting agreement).

Step 2:

The student-specific Statement of Split Site Supervisory Arrangements must be drawn up by the research student's Principal Supervisor, signed by the relevant Head of School and accompanied by the Hosting Agreement, and then submitted to the University Graduate Research Board (GRB) for approval. The documentation submitted to the Graduate Research Board should have all signatures, bar the Chair of the Graduate Board, included.

A template UCD Statement of Split Site Supervisory Arrangements can be found in Appendix 2. However, the host's document can be used once confirmed to be fit for purpose by the GRB Support Team.

Ideally, the supervision statement and the hosting agreement should be completed at the time of admission of a research student. However, if that is not possible, the statement must be approved prior to the student embarking on the split site arrangement.

The Statement of Split Site Supervisory Arrangements articulates:

- I. The student details
- II. The named External Supervisor in the Hosting Institution i.e. the designated member of staff of the external organisation that the student will work closely with.

Note: The External supervisor must be deemed to be appropriately qualified with sufficient professional and research experience to assist in supervision, be a member of the student's Research Studies Panel and be made aware of the academic regulations, policies and procedures by the relevant School.

- III. Specific periods that the student will spend at Host organisation. This can be anything from greater than one Trimester to full time at the Host institution.

IV. Ownership of intellectual property (if relevant).

Step 3. The Principal Supervisor submits the proposed split site arrangement and agreement form(s) to the GRB (assuming that they have gone through the appropriate School Approval process).

Note: The UCD Research Student Hosting Agreement and Statement of Split Site Supervisory Arrangements should be submitted to the GRB simultaneously.

Step 4: Once approved, the GRB support team will share the approved document(s) with the relevant School, noting the approval date with the UCD parties.

A series of Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) can be found in Appendix 3 of this document.

Appendix 1: Template for Hosting Agreement

UCD RESEARCH STUDENT HOSTING AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT is made between:

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE DUBLIN, National University of Ireland, Dublin, of Belfield, Dublin 4

[_____] (host name) with an address at [_____] (host location)
(the “Host”).

IT IS AGREED AS FOLLOWS:

2. This Agreement shall apply to the hosting of any UCD research student(s) (“Students”) at the Host organisation, including but not limited to any student identified in the associated individual Hosting Statement. Any subsequent Student Hosting Statements shall also form part of this Agreement. The Hosting Statement includes student details including time spent at Host and the supervisory arrangements.
3. The Host agrees to facilitate the Student(s) to carry out their research activities during such periods (and hours) and at such locations, as specified in any individual Statement of Split Site Supervision Arrangements.

Appendix 3: Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

1. What is the difference between the Split-Site Agreement (Hosting Agreement) and the Split-Site Supervision Statement?

The Split-Site Supervision Statement summarises:

- the key parties to the supervision of the student ,
- the details of the time the student will spend off-site at the hosting institution
- the RSP meeting schedule for the duration of the research programme.

The Split-Site Agreement (Hosting Agreement) specifies the host institution's obligations to students and to UCD in relation to health and safety legislation.

2. Can someone be an external supervisor if the student is not spending time off-site?

The role of external supervisor is a role that is specific to circumstances where a student spends at least one continuous trimester on another approved site (e.g. research institution, industry placement). The external supervisor will be a member of staff from that site and will be an external supervisor to the research student for the duration of their time on that site (and a member of their RSP otherwise). If a School wishes to have a non-UCD staff member involved in the supervision of a student who will not spend time off-site, then they can nominate them as a member of the Research Studies Panel (RSP) or request that they be appointed as Adjunct/Visiting Staff, if eligible, and then nominate them as a supervisor. The nomination of an adjunct/visiting staff member as a supervisor is only applicable for the principal/co-supervisor and is subject to the approval of the Graduate Research Board (GRB).

If the student will be based on another academic site, and the student will be registered in both universities and will be awarded their degree by both institutions, then please see the Inter-Institutional Co-Supervisor Agreement Policy/Template/Policy on the Graduate Studies Document Repository.

3. What happens if a proposed external supervisor is already adjunct staff and approved as an adjunct supervisor for another student?

If a student is going to be off-site for at least one continuous trimester then a supervision statement and agreement is still required. An adjunct staff member approved as a supervisor for one student can be an external supervisor for a different student. If you have a question about a particular scenario then please contact your GRB support contact or grb@ucd.ie.

4. What is the difference between an Inter-Institutional Co-Supervisor Agreement (Cotutelle) and a Split-Site Agreement/Statement?

A Cotutelle/Joint degree agreement should be sought if it is proposed to have a student registered to UCD and an international partner academic institution and will be awarded a joint degree from those institutions. The first step in setting up such an arrangement is the submission of a proposal to the Graduate Research Board outlining the strategic benefits of such a collaboration. More detailed information on this process can be found Inter-Institutional Co-Supervisor Agreement Policy/Proposal Form/Template/ sections of the Graduate Studies Document Repository.

A Split-Site Agreement/Supervision Statement is used when the student will be registered to UCD, and UCD only, for the duration of their degree but will be spending at least one continuous trimester on an approved research site. The final degree for this student will be awarded by UCD alone.

5. Is it possible to make changes to the templates provided for the Supervision Statement or the Split-Site Agreement (Hosting Agreement)?

Both of these documents have been carefully reviewed and the need for changes should be minimal. If a School wishes to provide slightly different information on the Supervision Statement, please contact grb@ucd.ie for advice.

If a change to the Hosting Agreement template is sought then please contact grb@ucd.ie for further advice. Please note that changes to this document may require the input of UCD Legal.
