

Lee Williams

MBS, BSc

Senior Consultant (Europe)

Lee is a Senior Consultant at Roffey Park Europe and an experienced management, leadership and organisational development professional. He works collaboratively with Boards, CEO's and their teams to architect and align strategy, structure, people and purpose to create resilient and adaptable organisations.

An experienced facilitator, researcher and executive coach Lee has worked with many leading UK, Irish and international businesses as both a consultant and a practitioner, having held senior positions in executive education, financial services, advertising and publishing.

Lee is passionate about developing sustainable, future-fit businesses and specialises in organisational design, culture change and coaching for leadership effectiveness and behaviour change.

He holds an BSc in psychology and education, an MBS in business practice from University College Cork and postgraduate awards in strategic HR management, OD & transformation and executive coaching from the Irish Management Institute. Lee is also a professional member of both the European Organisational Design Forum (EODF) and European Mentoring and Coaching Council (EMCC) and is certified in several psychometric and Emotional Intelligence assessments.