

UCD School of Philosophy Invited Speaker Seminars, 2017-2018, Semester 2

All events take place at 5pm in Agnes Cuming Seminar Room (D522), Newman Building, UCD, unless otherwise noted.

Date	Speaker	Topic
1 February	Lorna Finlayson, University of Essex	"I'm not with stupid": false consciousness stories for a post-Brexit age
8 February	Emily Thomas, Durham University	Travel Writing as Thought Experiments: Science, Francis Bacon, and Margaret Cavendish's Blazing World
15 February	Tom Rockmore, Peking University	Aspects of Marx's Dream
22–23 February	Agnes Cuming Lecturer: David Charles, Yale	How to avoid the mind body problem: Aristotle's way Venue: TBA
1 March	Andreas Mogensen, Oxford University	Should you let one drown to save a greater number through donations?
7–9 March	A Conference on Animal Ethics	The Value of Sentience: Empathy, Vulnerability and Recognition Venue: Ardmore House, UCD
8–9 March	International Conference	Philosophical Perspectives on Contemporary Ireland Details: TBA
29 March	Claudine Tiercelin, College de France	Why pragmatism entails realism
5 April	Anik Waldow, University of Sydney	Locke on Persons as Agents
12 April	Pauline Kleingeld, University of Groningen	Kant's 'republican' conception of freedom of the will
19 April	Antonio Nunziante, University of Padova	Sellars and the Phenomenological Root of the "Given": Farber, Husserl and the naturalization of phenomenology
4–5 May	Dublin Graduate Conference	Dialogues in Philosophy Details: TBA

(programme is subject to change)

In association with the Dublin Philosophy Research Network